Senators Clash With Pentagon

Paul Potts, commissioner of public health and safety, said today that he will "definitely" present his proposed north and south one-way street plan to the Dixon city council Tuesday night.

He also urged everyone opposing the plan to air their objections during the council session. Last week, as you will recall, Potts granted a request from "several Dixon businessmen" by delaying the presentation of the plan until Tuesday night.

The reason for the request from the unnamed Dixon businessmen was that they were allegedly afraid of police "retaliation" if they opposed the plan.

According to reliable sources, one businessman along the proposed route offered to produce a petition containing 500 names of motorists opposing the plan.

The "straw" poll conducted by the police department to show motorists' reactions to the plan disclosed, as of this morning, 367 in favor of the plan and only 16 against it.

The plan is to route northbound traffic on Galena Avenue and southbound traffic on Peoria Avenue between Second and Everett Streets.

If accepted by the council, the plan would give a trial period to coincide with the east and west one-way system now in effect.

The north and south plan reportedly would eliminate any traffic bottlenecks created by the original east and west system.

In conjunction with United Nations Week, which started today, on the 10th anniversary of the day the U.N. charter went into effect, the Dixon Lions Club will commemorate the observance with a special guest speaker at its noon luncheon Tuesday.

He will be John C. Gekas, Chicago, a member of the Illinois Bar Association and former executive secretary of the Greek War Relief for the Midwest. His theme will concern the U.N. organization.

In an Associated Press story today, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., chief U.S. delegate to the U.N., called the international organization "the most potent single engine in the world for influencing public opinion."

"It is a place where we Americans can set forth our own ideas and where we can expose communist fallacies," he said.

For further information about Gekas, see page six of today's Evening Telegraph.

Expect Ike's Decision In February

WASHINGTON (U)—Republican leaders tentatively have set the first week in February as the time they believe President Eisenhower will say whether he will run again.

This timetable reportedly has been worked out by GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall and other GOP strategists on the basis of progress reports on the President's health and because of political necessities.

One of the governing factors is the need to know 90 days before the May 3 Ohio presidential preference primary whether the President's name will go on the ballot in that state.

The tentative February timing also jibes with indications that the President's physicians will not be ready much before that time to tell whether Eisenhower's recovery from a heart attack will be complete.

Dr. Paul Dudley White said after an examination of Eisenhower in Denver Saturday his patient is progressing "exactly on schedule" toward recovery but "we will have to wait another two or three months to make sure of the completeness of his recovery."

TRAIN DERAILED—Fourteen cars of a Pennsylvania railroad train left the tracks Sunday near Otter Point, Md., causing minor injuries to 24 of the 56 passengers aboard and tying up main line traffic. The accident occurred about three miles north of the Edgewood Arsenal. Railroad officials said cause of the derailment was not determined immediately. (AP wirephoto)

President Increases His Schedule of Work Today

Gives Dulles His Support For Geneva Conference

DENVER, Colo. (U)—President Eisenhower embarked today on his busiest work schedule since he was stricken with a heart attack.

A stepped-up list of callers followed encouraging weekend checkups and issuance of a declaration of unqualified support for Secretary of State Dulles in advance of the Geneva conference.

The President said Dulles "speaks for me with authority for our country" in the foreign ministers meeting opening Thursday.

Gabriel Hauge and Dr. Arthur F. Burns started a parade of official visitors to Eisenhower's Army Hospital for a conference on economic problems.

Today's Callers

Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, and Hauge, Eisenhower's personal economic adviser, will preside Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. into the President's sickroom today. Lodge is chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations.

A 7:45 a.m. (CST) medical bulletin reported:

"The President had a good night's sleep of nearly nine hours. He awoke feeling refreshed and in a cheerful mood. His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

The weekend checkups found Eisenhower doing well enough to be flown East between Nov. 5 and Nov. 12. Whether there will be a complete recovery from the heart attack he suffered 30 days ago, Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted Boston heart specialist, reported, cannot be determined for another "two or three months."

Gives Good News

That was on Saturday when Dr. White met reporters to give them what he called the "good news" about the President's condition.

The President was well enough Sunday to stand upright unaided and step onto a pair of scales. They showed he had dropped to 172½ pounds, four less than when he entered the hospital. This, News Secretary James C. Hagerty said, "is all to the good."

Afterwards, the President made public a letter to his Cabinet spelling out Dulles' role of full authority in foreign affairs and calling for the full support of his colleagues in the administration. It was addressed to Vice President

Associated Press Farm Reporter

ST. PAUL, Minn. (U)—The Democratic-controlled Senate Agriculture Committee was not ready today to follow the lead of two potential party presidential candidates on the big farm issue.

Opening a nationwide tour to weigh farmer views on sagging prices and income, committee members brushed aside for the time at least — action of Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York advocating a return to high, rigid farm price supports of the Truman regime.

Last week Harriman and Stevenson criticized the Eisenhower administration program of flexible price floors as being inadequate to assure farm prosperity and urged removal of the old system.

"We want to hear from the farmers themselves before we make any decision on new legislation," said Committee Chairman Ellender (D-La.). His words were echoed by Senators Holland (D-Fla.) and Young (R-ND).

In its tour, the committee plans to visit the Western corn belt, the spring wheat area, the West Coast, the Southwest, the South and Northeast before returning to Washington to draft legislation.

Three Area Auto Mishaps Are Reported

An Ashton woman was injured in one of the two single-car crashes to occur in the Dixon area Sunday.

A third crash Sunday, a three-car collision west of Dixon on the newly opened Dixon-Sterling freeway, resulted in no injuries. It was the first major mishap to occur on this new stretch of Aik. Rt. 30 since it was opened a week ago.

State Policeman Fred Fromm reported that Mrs. Emma Eich, Ashton, apparently received only minor injuries about 5:45 p.m. Sunday when the car in which she was riding plunged into a ditch four miles west of Rochelle on Alt. Rt. 30.

Fromm said the car apparently skidded out of control following a blow-out. The auto was driven by her husband, Charles Eich. Fromm estimated $300 damage to the car.

A Rochelle serviceman, A-3c Harry Skelly, 17, escaped serious injury about 1 p.m. Sunday when the speeding car he was driving missed a curve on the Steward road, overturned and plunged into a ditch.

State Policeman William Spencer arrested Skelly for speeding after the youth admitted he tried to round the curve at 80 miles an hour.

Spencer said the car skidded 562 feet before overturning, then skidded another 68 feet on its top before plunging into the ditch. He estimated $600 damage to the auto.

The three-car mishap occurred four miles west of Dixon about 5 p.m. Sunday and involved autos driven by Horace Kime, 30, Ashton; Robert Dallagass, 27, Dixon; and George A. Marshall, 15, Sterling.

State Policeman Frank Trent arrested Marshall for following too close. He estimated $100 damage to the Kime auto, $350 to the Dallagass vehicle and $500 to Marshall's car.

Study Medical Clues In Chicago Murders

Investigation Of 3 Boys' Deaths Slow

County Board May Move to Increase Reward by $10,000

CHICAGO (AP)—Investigators reviewed mute medical evidence today in the almost total dearth of clues in the beating and strangulation deaths of three schoolboys.

A new move to increase rewards for solving the case was announced.

An inquest into the triple slaying which apparently occurred about midnight Sunday, Oct. 16, was postponed indefinitely. Leaders of five Chicago and Cook County law enforcement agencies conferred with Lt. Patrick Deely, heading a special detail of 57 Chicago police detectives working on the case.

Puzzling Clue

Dr. Jerry Kearns, pathologist for the county coroner's office, told newsmen that one of the most puzzling features of the case was evidence the mouths and noses of all three victims had been covered by medical tape which was removed before their bodies were found Tuesday in Robinson's Woods.

The boys were Robert Peterson, 14; John Schuessler, 13, and John's brother, Anton Schuessler, Jr., 11. "We do not know whether the tape was applied while the boys were conscious or if it was put on after they had been beaten senseless," Dr. Kearns said.

"If the tape was applied after the boys had been beaten and choked, it may have cut off their intake of air and been the primary cause of death."

No Indication

Dr. Kearns said there was no indication on the bodies that the boys' hands or feet had been trussed. Medical evidence indicated that young Peterson had been choked with a noose and manually, Kearns said. The Peterson boy's neck was surrounded by a "constricting bruise," and bore a fingernail mark.

Last Rites for John P. Devine Held Today

Funeral services for John P. Devine, 77, Dixon, distinguished Lee county attorney and veteran legislator who died late Friday, were held this morning in St. Anne's Catholic Church. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

Devine, who was known as "Mr. Democrat" in Northern Illinois political circles, served 24 years in the state legislature—the final two of which were as Speaker of the House of Representatives.

He was recently feted by the Illinois Bar Association for practicing law for more than 50 years in Dixon. He had been in poor health for the past year.

He is survived by his widow, the former Theresa Gorman of Springfield, two brothers and four sisters. Six of Devine's nephews were pallbearers. They were: John Lahey, James and Robert Devine, all of Dixon; Robert, John and James Monahan, all of Chicago.

Circuit Judge Robert Bracken, a former law partner, today adjourned circuit court from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. for the funeral services.

Some of the out-of-town guests attending the services included: Judge and Mrs. Michael L. Igou, Chicago; Judge J. S. Perry, Chicago; Representatives David Hunter and Del Hilvers, both of Rockford; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ever, Galena, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Sheehan; Senator Dennis Collins, DeKalb, and Rep. Charles Franz, Freeport.

Judge Leon A. Zick, Oregon; Judge A. H. Manus, Freeport; Mrs. Elwyn R. Shaw, Freeport, widow of the late Judge Shaw; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Bittorf, Sterling, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burt, also of Sterling.

REPORTS ON IKE—Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, tells newsmen (Oct. 22) in Denver, after examining President Eisenhower, that physicians will have to wait "another two or three months" before they can tell whether his recovery will be complete. He said the present goal is for the President to fly East sometime between Nov. 5 and Nov. 12 for a period of convalescence at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm. (AP wirephoto)

Malmedy Massacre Army's Commander Leaves Prison

LANDSBERG, Germany (U)—Former Col. Gen. Sepp Dietrich, commander of the 6th SS panzer army involved in the Malmedy massacre of American troops, was secretly released from the U. S. war crimes prison here Saturday, it was learned today.

Dietrich had been sentenced to life imprisonment by a U. S. military tribunal after the war. After being freed, Dietrich left by automobile for Ludwigsburg, where he will make his home.

More than 100 captured American soldiers were shot down by German tanks at Malmedy in Hitler's Ardennes counter-offensive of December, 1944.

The panzers belonged to Dietrich's army and were under the direct command of Col. Joachim Peiper.

Dietrich, 63, was regarded as one of the most fanatic Nazis in the Wehrmacht command. After

Cold Wave Gives Hint Of Winter

Dixon Temperature Sinks 43 Degrees As Front Arrives

By The Associated Press

Snappy cold air spread over most of Illinois and the Midwest early today, dropping minimum temperatures 15 to 25 degrees and forecasters said the dip would continue for another 24 hours.

Frost is expected locally over Illinois and Indiana Monday night and freezing temperatures are forecast for Wisconsin and Michigan.

Some below freezing readings were reported in northwest Illinois and parts of southern Wisconsin early Monday morning.

Some early morning Illinois temperatures Monday included: Quincy 33; Rockford, 34; Rantoul and Vandalia, 37, and Springfield, 36. The temperature dipped to 38 at Chicago; 46 at Detroit; 39 at Fort Wayne, Ind., and 36 at Madison, Wis.

The Weather Bureau at Chicago said the strong cold front centered in Illinois and adjacent states will move rapidly eastward. The bureau added, however, that a new cold front now entering the Pacific Northwest is slated to arrive over the northern section of the Midwest by Wednesday morning. The new cold front may be accompanied by light snow in the northern tier of the Midwest.

The cold snap arrived in the Chicago district with showers that ended a delightful Indian summer day Sunday. The mercury reached 78 degrees at 1:40 p.m. in Chicago Sunday.

West Europe Uneasy Over Saar Balloting

LONDON (U)—Western Europe today viewed the pro-German victory in the Saar with misgivings verging on anxiety.

There was a feeling the 991-square mile territory on the French-German border has emerged once again as a trouble spot carrying the seeds of international discord.

Though the election result was not unexpected the headlines clearly reflected the shock felt in Britain and revived reluctant memories of Hitler's march into the Saar 29 years ago, his first aggressive move.

Deny Asking Preferential Treatment

AIR FORCE SAID IT SENT PLANES FOR THEIR USE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two indignant Democratic senators flew back from Europe today, demanding the Pentagon explain its assertion that special planes had to be sent after them and other members of their party at a cost of $20,000.

Firmly denying they ever asked any special transportation, Sens. McClellan of Arkansas and Stennis of Mississippi voiced their indignation after disembarking from a regularly scheduled Military Air Transport Service (MATS) Constellation that brought them and 42 others from Paris.

Both said they expected top Defense Department officials to give an explanation of stories last week that they declined to adjust their schedules to travel on regular flights.

Not Embarrassed

Referring to the Republican-run Pentagon, McClellan declared: "If there was any intent to embarrass me, I positively refuse to be embarrassed by it. It's their mistake. There's no mistake on our part."

Stennis declared he would seek an explanation from Secretary of Defense Wilson—now in Europe for the Big Four meeting—or from whatever top officials are available at the Pentagon.

"I think they'll make a correction," Stennis declared. "I think they'll explain the facts."

As the senators flew home on a regularly scheduled military flight, the plane, specially dispatched to fetch them from Madrid stayed in Europe.

Stennis was accompanied by his wife. McClellan's wife is due on a later plane.

McClellan described himself as "completely mystified" by the Pentagon announcement that he and other senators in Europe and the Middle East on inspection tours had demanded special planes.

"The whole purpose of our using Air Force planes was to save money," the Arkansas senator said.

"We could, of course, have traveled by commercial airlines at government expense, since our trip was purely for government business. But it is less expensive to travel on planes that the Air Force is flying anyway."

On Schedule

Both McClellan and Stennis said they returned at exactly the time originally planned.

Stennis said he was "stunned" by the controversy over their transportation. "In fact," he added, "I think I have been stung."

"I feel," Stennis said, "there has been a serious misunderstanding somewhere by the secretary of defense. I'm going to explain the facts to him."

The Defense Department announced last Thursday it was sending two special four-engine transports to bring home McClellan, Stennis and Sen. Chavez (D-NM).

A Misunderstanding

The Pentagon later said "some misunderstanding" had arisen—that the Air Force found after the senators left the United States that planes were not available to bring them back on the dates they wanted to return. The announcement said the Air Force tried to change the dates but were told the changes couldn't be made.

McClellan and Stennis said they knew nothing of any attempt to change the dates.

"It is absolutely without foundation," Stennis said. "Such a thing was never mentioned to me."

Chavez remained behind in Madrid and planned to return later to the United States.

Before leaving Paris, McClellan said he knew nothing about any special plane.

The three senators, all members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, have been in Europe on committee business inspecting defense and spending. The Defense Department says it is obligated by law to provide the transportation for such trips.

The Ogle Homemaker

Officers Attend School

By HARRIETT H. WACHLIN
Ogle County Home Adviser

OREGON — (Special) — Sixty Home Bureau unit officers heard Mrs. Paul R. Bollman, Oregon, state that to be a good officer in any organization one must be faithful, sincere, and prepared.

She told the group attending the unit officers' training school Wednesday that a well-prepared meeting is the best insurance for having a good meeting.

Mrs. Bollman gave specific guidance to all of the officers. She said that a president should never deviate from the purposes of the organization that she serves. The president should know her constitution and follow it.

She stressed that each officer should keep her plans up-to-date and in writing so that someone else could use her plans to carry on in an emergency.

Mrs. Bollman made the statement that people don't come to meetings for the business part but to learn something. Therefore an officer must have well in mind what is to be done so as not to waste homemakers' time.

Business should be conducted in the quickest and most efficient way possible, she concluded.

Mrs. Raymond Hass, retiring county president, trained the unit chairmen. The vice-chairmen were trained by Mrs. John Bolthouse, Byron, and the unit secretaries by Mrs. S. H. Hills, a retiring unit secretary.

I believe that the nutrition lesson is making you homemakers more conscious of the meals you prepare for your families.

In many homes breakfast is the meal around which better eating habits should be formed.

If you, or any member of your family, skip breakfast it means that you will be slower in doing your work, your reactions will be slower, and you will be apt to be more irritable. You may even become dizzy or nauseated.

Some of you I'm sure feel that skipping breakfast will help you take off extra pounds. It won't.

Skipping on breakfast can only mean that you are cheating your body of its nutritional needs. Remember that it's been a long time since last night's dinner, and your body needs breakfast to function properly until noon.

Remember, eat a good breakfast if you want to lose, gain or keep the same weight. You owe it to your body.

Staying Power

Protein ought to be included in every breakfast. It has a "staying power" that takes you through the morning without feeling so hungry. Then you won't want to eat so much when the noon whistle blows. That makes it easier to follow your planned diet.

The best way to control body weight is to decide the daily amount of food you need and to eat just that much—no more, no less.

A homemaker may need from 1,600 to 2,300 calories a day, depending on her size and kind of activities.

Sound dieting calls for cutting down on calorie intake by eating simple lunches and omitting between-meal nibbles. Never skimp on breakfast. There are about 200 calories in a breakfast of one-half cup citrus fruit juice, an egg, lightly buttered toast and unsweetened coffee and at least 350 calories in a gooey dessert you think you can eat because you skipped breakfast.

That's 150 calories more than if you had breakfast.

Remember, eat a good breakfast if you want to lose, gain or keep the same weight. You owe it to your body.

ment that people don't come to meetings for the business part but to learn something. Therefore an officer must have well in mind what is to be done so as not to waste homemakers' time.

Business should be conducted in the quickest and most efficient way possible, she concluded.

Mrs. Raymond Hass, retiring county president, trained the unit chairmen. The vice-chairmen were trained by Mrs. John Bolthouse, Byron, and the unit secretaries by Mrs. S. H. Hills, a retiring unit secretary.

I believe that the nutrition lesson is making you homemakers more conscious of the meals you prepare for your families.

In many homes breakfast is the meal around which better eating habits should be formed.

If you, or any member of your family, skip breakfast it means that you will be slower in doing your work, your reactions will be slower, and you will be apt to be more irritable. You may even become dizzy or nauseated.

Some of you I'm sure feel that skipping breakfast will help you take off extra pounds. It won't.

Skipping on breakfast can only mean that you are cheating your body of its nutritional needs. Remember that it's been a long time since last night's dinner, and your body needs breakfast to function properly until noon.

Delay Freedom For Elderly Woman Prisoner

DWIGHT, Ill. (AP)—A 72-year-old East Alton, Ill., woman, granted a parole last week after serving 22 years of a life term, may not be released for several weeks.

Mrs. Ruth Bedeman, warden of the state reformatory for women at Dwight, said Sunday that provisions must be made to care for Mrs. Lillian Chessen before she can be released.

Mrs. Chessen was convicted Sept. 30, 1933 as a member of a gang which kidnaped the late August Luer, an Alton banker. The gang was charged with holding Luer for five days in an attempt to obtain $10,000 ransom.

Luer was released unharmed and the gang got no ransom.

Housewife and Experts at Odds

Her Grocery Cart Doesn't Show Lower Food Prices

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The housewife pushing the grocery cart is at odds again with the statisticians who figure the food price index.

The housewife is told the wholesale index is down but she can't see that the retail food prices are—at least not much.

It's largely the old story of the spread between the price of the raw materials out of which foods are fashioned and the finished products on the grocer's shelves. That spread like others, tends to widen with the years.

The grocer insists the housewife's getting more for her money today—if she takes into consideration all the fringe benefits of convenience, time saving and improved nutrition in today's prepared foods.

Index Down

The government's wholesale farm product price index is well below the 1947-49 base. The government's wholesale food price index is about even with that pre-Korean war level. But the government's retail food price index in September was 11.6 per cent higher. Although nicely down from its peak of two years ago.

Dun & Bradstreet's wholesale food price index is the lowest since June, 1950, when the Korean war started. The housewife finds this hard to believe because she says the prices she pays certainly aren't.

The D. & B. index is a rough and ready indicator. It isn't supposed to be definitive nor a cost of living index. The index is the sum of the price of a pound each of 31 foodstuffs. Included are lamb, steers, hogs, barley, cottonseed oil. Few housewives would buy a pound of these each week.

Prices Fluctuate

Food prices, at every level, have come down from their peak. They fluctuate now. Some foodstuffs, like coffee or storm damaged vegetables, go up because of temporary shortages. Some, like pork, tumble because of oversupply.

But what the consumer mostly talks about is that the price of farm products and of foods at wholesale have fallen more than retail prices—and it's retail prices that interest him primarily.

The grocer, and food processors have their arguments handy. They are aware that the consumers suspect profit taking as the villain. Paul S. Willis, president of Grocery Manufacturers of America, says only a small amount of the retail price is represented by manufacturer and distributor net profits.

Profit Lower

He says, "their combined profit today is down to around three cents of the consumer's food dollar; it was six cents before World War II." And he insists that food prices have declined in terms of wages, that "an hour's work will buy more and better food than ever before."

Food handlers also quote Department of Agriculture figures to show that payment to workers for assembling, processing, transporting, distributing farm food products was 46 per cent of the total cost of marketing in 1946 but is now 54 per cent. Modern "convenience foods" cost more in freezing, prepackaging, slicing, precooking, packing. Transportation costs have gone up.

Daily fluctuations on the Chicago Board of Trade in the prices of the raw materials of tomorrow's victuals may mean little at the grocery. The cost of grain, for example, is a small percentage of the price of bread. And flour mills hedge on the market to even out daily price changes.

Time Lag

There is also a time lag between raw material price changes and those of finished products. A cynic may think that the time lag is slight when farm prices are rising, and likely to be longer when they're falling.

But this is "Farm-City Week" aimed at making each understand the other better. It's that spread actually that causes most of the ill feeling on either side.

These Kids Are Different?

TOKYO (AP)—Maybe you've heard Japanese children are well behaved.

Anyway, a poll conducted by Tokyo primary teacher Takefumi Totani among his students shows:

Forty-five per cent of the boys and 39 per cent of the girls said they got frequent spankings at home. More girls than boys said it made them angry and some said they talked back.

Twenty-eight per cent said they felt lying couldn't be helped. Almost all said they thought they were misunderstood.

The Democrats' Dilemma

You'll have to scratch hard to find a political observer who doesn't believe that the moderate course is the one most Americans wish to follow today.

President Eisenhower's administration certainly has gone down that path. As a matter of fact, under the check-rein provided by a reluctant Congress, so did former President Truman's. The latter often proposed more radical solutions but few ever got far. Some, indeed, suspected Mr. Truman of offering them in the almost sure knowledge they would be rejected.

Everything indicates the Republican party intends to keep to the middle. The top Republicans are saying that whether or not Mr. Eisenhower runs in 1956 his program must set the key. Leonard Hall, GOP national chairman, advises the party to make itself over in the Eisenhower image.

The situation presents a dilemma for the Democrats. Some are voicing fear that voters who want a moderate man and moderate program will inevitably choose a Republican for president. They feel therefore that to win their candidate must offer more daring proposals.

This is not a new predicament. It has developed here and there at the state level. Republican incumbents of moderate or mildly progressive tinge have left Democrats with nowhere to go but leftward, unless they wished to dress up moderate proposals in their own wrapper.

On the national stage, quite a few Democrats appear now to doubt that new packaging is enough to attract a winning coalition of voters. They are skeptical of the wisdom of Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Senate majority leader, in going down the center in Congress.

Certain party men are even reported questioning the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson on the ground he is too much of a middle runner. One account, not confirmed as it that this is one reason Mr. Truman has been smiling warmly on New York's Governor Harriman, an avowed New Dealer, in recent times.

The detached onlooker can concede the Democrats' dilemma but still voice bafflement at suggestions calling for a wide departure from the center.

If that is where the overwhelming mass of American voters is to be found, then what sense does it make to propose candidates and programs that probably will not appeal to most of them?

Their real hope would seem to lie in proposing fresh treatment of issues within the limits of the moderate course, and in choosing a nominee not only in harmony with that course but of such quality and promise that he cannot fail to make impact on the voters.

This is a tall order against an incumbent party that is trumpeting prosperity and peace, even if it should not have Mr. Eisenhower to lead it. Nevertheless, it looks like the order the Democrats may have to fill.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywood and Grapevine: Gail Russell, again trying to break the career jinx barrier, has John Wayne in her comeback corner.

Wayne green-lighted her role in "Seven Men From Now" for his Balzac film company and is predicting a bright new career for the onetime Paramount star.

"I don't think she'll be the great star she should have been," says Wayne, "but she can be a competent actress. Some people think I'm taking a big gamble with her. Well, I don't think so. I've worked with her in two pictures and she was always on the set and never late."

Charles Wayne: "Paramount didn't know how to handle her. They broke her spirit."

The British-made "Tales of Hoffmann" introduced concert and TV singer Robert Rounseville to the screen but it took a fat role in "Carousel" to make him say "Yes" to Hollywood gold. Laughing about offers he received after "Hoffmann," he told me: "I turned them down for pretty obvious reasons: One was a singing doorman and the other was a swimming-pool cleaning boy who bursts into song every time he sees Esther Williams."

Bob Hope's latest, "That Certain Feeling," is based on Jackie Cooper's Broadway play hit "King of Hearts." But even Jackie wouldn't recognize the rewrite changes.

A post card from Greer Garson on her New Mexico ranch reveals that words like "reckon" are seeping into the lady's vocabulary.

Marge and Gower Champion are adding a "Pygmalion" number to dance-story telling in their new night-club act.

NOT IN THE SCRIPT: Ex-matinee idol Conrad Nagel, back before the cameras in U-I's "All That Heaven Allows," said it: "A leading man always knows the years are catching up with him when the producer hands him a script and says, 'It's a wonderful role for you even if you don't get the girl.'"

Sign in a Hollywood pet shop: "Come in and Bow-Wowse around."

Hear It Now: Dewey Martin's leading the race for the role of Rocky Marciano. . . . If Marilyn Monroe approves the script of "The Revolt of Mamie Stover," just submitted to her at Fox, the revolt of Marilyn Monroe will be over. It's no "Brothers Karamazov," but it's a meaty acting role that may bring Marilyn back to Hollywood.

Tallulah Bankhead ducked out of Milton Berle's next TV show from Hollywood. Didn't like the script. . . . Red Skelton is studying maps of Australia. He's in line for a personal-appearance tour there.

MARGARET O'BRIEN will collect $2500 a week on her new contract to star in another film for Producer-Director David Butler. The 18-year-old's contract was approved in court after she told the judge she would save 15 per cent of her earnings.

Harpo Marx is telling about the doll who complained to her attorney about overdue alimony. "And if he doesn't get caught up on his payments," she said, "I'll repossess HIM."

"Dealer's Choice," a collection of the world's greatest poker stories, from Runyon to Maugham, just hit the bookshelves. The book was edited by Jerry D. Lewis, a

Hollywood TV writer, who dedicates it to his wife with the word-
age:

Wondering what's happened to TV's star hoofers, Rod Alexander and Bambi Lynn? They're staging the dances for "Carousel." The "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" number was filmed on location in Maine—the first outdoor dance number in the history of the 20th Century-Fox studio. A Pie Is More Impressive To Man Than a Pay Check

Any woman who sets out to help her husband earn a living ought to get one fact through her head right at the start. Her husband will never be as proud of her ability to earn a pay check as he will be of any more feminine accomplishment.

The pay check will come in handy, all right. And from time to time he may admit it.

But there is no mystery to a man connected with a pay check. "So she works. So she gets paid for it."

But let the same woman whip up a dress with her own two hands, or serve guests a meal they rave about, or create a charming room without the aid of a decorator or win a reputation as an expert at raising flowers, and her husband is all awed admiration.

That is a distinction a lot of working wives don't grasp. They are often unhappy because they feel their husbands don't appreciate their ability to help out as breadwinner.

HUSBAND'S COOKING GIVE YOU PRIDE?

In order to understand the man's natural reaction all a woman has to do is test her own feelings about her husband's accomplishments.

Is she honestly as proud of his ability to broil a steak or stir up a tasty barbecue sauce as she is of his ability to paint the house, build a cabinet for the dining room, or take a balky power mower apart and put it back together again in good working order?

Of course, she's not. She knows that so far as cooking goes she is the real professional in the family, just as a man knows that earning

BERLIN—The Zoo station of the Berlin transportation system is a dirty, draughty maze of stairs, passages and platforms leading to an elevated line where electric trains and an occasional steam-driven job, usually with a few flat wheels, rumble in from the Soviet East, stop and drag themselves on their weary way. It is a good deal like Penn Station and a few others in the New York system. There is only a dull dismal light of day even at noon and there are no chairs or benches for the people who wait endlessly and hoping without hope for sons, husbands, fathers and missing women who disappeared into the darkness of the Communist empire, as long ago as 1943. Most of them must be dead and the hope of the individuals is about a million-to-one shot. Most of them are on the far side of youth, from 40 up to enfeebled old age.

About 450 of them had been waiting in a special vigil for the last 24 hours when I arrived about noon. There were waxen, gray faces and the flicker of an interest which I could not describe as hopeful caused twinges as, first, a one-eyed man in a limp old raincoat and then a mother of a boy who vanished at Stalingrad in 1943, and another and another, approached me for information. The one-eyed man had spotted me for an American and hoped I would be an "official" who knew something. The Russians seized his son, a civilian employee of the municipal court in Berlin, after the war was over and sent him to a camp beyond the Urals. He last heard of the young man in 1950.

The West German free government has been warning the people for years that it is only self-torture to wait for records. They wrote off their own dead. Russians who surrendered were put down as traitors. They kept their muster rolls by ear and used men, not edible live-stock to tramp out the land-mines. There were always more men where those came from. Pigs and cows were scarce.

An impulse goes through these crowds when two persons in conversation seem to have something of new interest to say. Five or six others gathered close. A younger woman, dark-haired but turning gray and leaning on a cane, said her husband had been a doctor in private practice in Rumania. When the war ended in 1945, he disappeared. She has not heard from him since. Yet she looked for his face among the busy, heedless local passengers hurrying down the stairs. The day before, five civilians had come back from the dead and five homes had been rescued at last from the anguish. It is a cynical lottery, typical of the Russian Communist but more fiendish here because the East Germans could at least try to canvass the Soviet camp rosters and their skippy records of enemy dead and tell their old countrymen the worst-of-the-best. They have repudiated their own dead sons. Their own disabled veterans were Nazi beasts attacking the people's democracy. Let their infirmities remind them of their crime.

So Chancellor Adenauer was right when he spat in The Brute's eye at Moscow and said the Russians had been guilty of war crimes, too. In Berlin they raped all the women they could catch and shot women whether or not. Old men in Berlin, of course, were just targets. In Prague it was about the same, hardly worse. So the Russian "Categorical" denial of the slightest misbehavior when Adenauer sat down meant only that the gallant ally who sat with the Americans and British in judgment on helpless prisoners, was on the winning side. Goering telescoped all this when he said that his every admission was a confession of criminal guilt; his denials all were lies.

Woman's Club Has Dr. Thompson For Saturday Speaker

"What Roberts Wrought" was the topic of Dr. Wayne N. Thompson, associate professor of speech, University of Illinois, Navy Pier, Chicago, when he addressed members and guests of the Dixon Women's club Saturday afternoon, Oct. 22, in Loveland Community House. This meeting was a parliamentary workshop.

Dr. Thompson, introduced by Mrs. C. F. Johnston, Jr., parliamentarian of the Dixon club, stated that General Henry Robert, born in 1837 in South Carolina, was the first one to write a code on parliamentary procedure. In 1874 he completed a code which had two printings and this book remained in the best seller list for 79 years.

Dr. Thompson told his listeners to regard parliamentary or constitutional procedure the same as taking out an insurance policy or making a will. He said parliamentary procedure should be used with common sense; certain principles that underlie parliamentary procedure deal with situations that are not covered and that all presiding officers should know parliamentary procedure.

Saturday's speaker said that all members of any group have equal rights and responsibilities and that a member has a responsibility to serve his organization as a committee member when elected or appointed. There should only be one motion before the society at a time; the club should always have a full and free discussion on items and presiding officers should be impartial, were other helpful hints given by the interesting talker.

Business Meet

Miss Cornelia Conibear, president, was in charge of the business session and Mrs. Glandon Lantz, American Citizenship chairman, led the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Flavia Plock, recording secretary, read the minutes.

Mrs. I. B. Potter, music chairman, introduced Mrs. Helen Carpenter, music supervisor in the Dixon elementary schools, who sang a group of selections from the "Desert Song." Miss Alice Thompson was piano accompanist. It was announced that Mrs. Henry W. Hey would be historian and Mrs. W. O. Moore, art chairman, of the club. Mrs. Bardell Bowman, radio chairman, made an announcement.

For Washer

Exacting recipes for the use of the automatic washer are just as important for good washing results as they are for good cooking results with modern ranges. The feel and dump methods are as out of date for laundering as the "handful of flour" or "fat the size of an egg" are for cake mixing.

The first ingredient in the washing recipe is water. Soft or softened water should be a must. Otherwise it is necessary to use a syndet. The temperature needs careful watching. A thermometer to check temperature is very smart. For the greater share of the washing, the hotter the water the better and its best at 160 degrees. Research has shown that at 160 degrees the white clothes are cleaner, whiter and more sanitary. Often little or no bleach is then necessary.

The size of the load can make for good or poor results. Clothes must be able to move freely. It is better to mix loads with large and small items rather than all large items as sheets.

Detergent quantities in the right proportion are vital for best results. Washer tubs vary in size; so be sure to know the capacity of the tub. For each 10 gallons of wash water use this proportion: 6 to 8 grains of water hardness—use 1/2 to 1 cup of sudsing syndet or 1/4 to 1/2 cup low-sudsing syndet; for 6 to 10 grains water hardness use 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cup sudsing syndet or 1/2 to 3/4 cup low-sudsing syndet; 10 to 20 grains hardness—use 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cups sudsing detergent, 3/4 to 1 cup low sudsing syndet. Over 20 grains hardness—use 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cups sudsing syndet or 3/4 to 1 cup low sudsing syndet.

Calls Princess; Gets the Time

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP)—John Moran of the Victoria Advocate decided to telephone Buckingham Palace Sunday night to see what he could find out about the romance of Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend.

He forgot one detail.

When it's 9:40 p.m. in Texas, it's 3:40 a.m. in London.

And "Her Majesty's secretary is abed, and can't be disturbed at this time."

Moran planned to try again today.

Siamese Twins Born in Madison

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Siamese twin girls were born Sunday at Madison General Hospital to a 36-year-old Dane County woman.

The girls are joined at the abdomen, but apparently are normal in all other respects. The physician, who would not reveal the name of the parents, said it would take four or five days study to determine what might be done surgically to separate the girls.

The parents have one other child, the physician said. Both the mother and the twins are reported in good condition.

Aces Still Unbeaten; Top Forrester, 40-6

Byron Tips Winnebago In 39-20 Tilt

Ashton Scores 4 Times in Fourth To Sew Up Game

POLO—(Special)—A sluggish Ashton team got rolling in high gear in the second half to maintain its unbeaten status with a 40-6 victory over Forrester here, Saturday night.

Saturday afternoon, Byron took a firm grip on third place in the Route 72 league standings with a 39-20 victory over Winnebago to snap a tie for the position.

Ashton and Forrester battled to a scoreless first period and then the Cardinals broke the scoring ice on a 40 yard pass lateral play.

That Forrester touchdown seemed to snap the Aces out of the doldrums as Ray Kersten ran three yards, fumbled into the end zone and Lyle Warner fell on it for a touchdown. Ron Engelkes then ran the extra point and the Aces had a slim 7-6 halftime lead.

Forrester held Ashton to only one more touchdown in the third period as Larry Henert scored from 11 yards out on an end run and Engelkes ran the extra point.

But the final period saw the Aces turn the contest into a rout as Larry Fisher, Warner and Henert teamed up for a pair of touchdowns with Fisher passing to Warner and Warner laterally to Henert for two TDs. Engelkes ran both extra points.

A third score in the period came when Engelkes ran 44 yards and the final tally resulted when Warner intercepted a pass and Glenn Hansen plunged six yards to score.

Forrester used a spread formation most of the night and tried to click on passing. The Aces stayed pretty much on the ground. "Bob Heidenreich scored four touchdowns to pace Byron to victory. The Tigers needed to rally twice to win.

Tigers Trail Twice

Winnebago scored a touchdown and Bob Hurd booted a two point conversion to give the Indians an early 8-0 lead. Byron came back with a touchdown in the first period and another in the second for a 12-8 edge, but Winnebago rallied to take a 14-12 halftime lead.

Two Byron touchdowns in the third period, while Winnebago was going scoreless, gave the Tigers a lead, they never lost.

Heidenreich scored on a 65 yard pass interception and on runs of 51, 44 and 10 yards. He also ran one extra point.

Frank Reever scored on a three yard pass from Mel Johnson, and Dick Harding scored on a 40 yard toss by Johnson. Johnson kicked a two point conversion.

Bob King scored once and Leroy Calhoun twice for Winnebago. All three touchdowns came from inside the five yard line.

Byron gained 261 yards rushing to 167 for Winnebago. The Tigers had an edge in passing, nine of 14 for 73 yards to three of nine for 50 yards. Winnebago had six first downs to five for Byron.

Badgers Face Elimination After Upset Loss to OSU

CHICAGO (U)—Wisconsin's once-mighty Badgers, considered a good bet in the Big Ten title scramble last week, face possible elimination from the race Saturday.

The Badgers take on mighty Michigan State and from all indications Wisconsin should wind up on the short end.

Coach Ivy Williamson's boys were beaten by Ohio State, 26-16, after getting whacked by Southern Cal a week earlier.

Michigan State, on the other hand, has whipped Stanford, Notre Dame and Illinois after dropping a 14-7 decision to undefeated Michigan.

Three other conference games are slated Saturday with top interest focused on the Iowa-Michigan encounter. The Wolverines will have to snap to if they hope to remain undefeated.

Michigan has had two tight squeaks since its big victory over Army. The Wolves had trouble beating Northwestern, 14-2, and then had to strike from behind to edge Minnesota, 14-13.

Ohio State takes on Northwestern, Purdue is at Illinois while outside of the Big Ten Ohio University is at Indiana and Southern Cal is at Minnesota. Notre Dame takes on Navy in one of the days' top games and West Virginia is at Marquette. Ohio State's Buckeyes, despite a pair of intersectional losses, might battle right down the line in defense of their title.

The Bucks have a 2-0 record and play Northwestern, Indiana and Iowa before meeting Michigan in what could be another title showdown on the final Saturday of the season.

Michigan has a 3-0 conference record and must play Iowa, Illinois and Indiana before Ohio State. Michigan State, possibly the best team in the Big Ten at the moment, also plays a six-game schedule. Having suffered one loss, the Spartans must beat Wisconsin to keep alive their slim hopes.

Wisconsin, playing seven games, would remain a strong contender by beating Michigan State. Iowa could turn what has been a trying season into one of a success with a triumph over Michigan. But the Wolves will be a lot tougher with end Ron Kramer back in the lineup. Kramer missed the last two games after being injured in the Army rout.

Bears Win, 34-23; Cards Tie

Weird TD Gains Cards 24-24 Knot

CHICAGO (U)—The Chicago Bears, struggling to remain in the National Football League title picture, Sunday took another step in regaining some of the glitter lost when they dropped their first three games.

The Bears made it two straight by whipping the San Francisco 49ers, 34-23, and take on the league-leading Los Angeles Rams next.

would boost the Bears back into serious contention.

The Chicago Cardinals put together a weird touchdown play in the final four minutes of their game to tie the Philadelphia Eagles, 24-24.

Trailing, 24-17, the Cards had the ball on the Eagle 13 when half-back Ollie Matson was trapped and raced back 24 yards trying to shake off tacklers.

Spots Stonesifer

In desperation, Matson lateraled to Dave Mann who started for the sidelines then spotted end Don Stonesifer near the goal line and tossed a touchdown pass to Stonesifer. Pat Summerall converted and the Cardinals had a tie.

The Bears needed no such tricks but had to come from behind for their victory. Trailing 17-3 late in the first half, with only seconds left in the half, Ed Brown tossed a nine-yard touchdown pass to Bill McColl to cap a 75-yard drive.

Two touchdowns in the third quarter put the Bears ahead 24-17 but San Francisco scored early in the fourth period to make it 24-23. John Helwig blocked Gordy Soltau's attempted extra-point preventing the 49ers from tying the score.

George Blanda later kicked his second field goal and Brown ran 32 yards for a touchdown in the final minute of the game.

Newman Wins

STERLING (Special)—Newman of Sterling sewed up at least a tie for the Illowa conference football title here Saturday with a 45-13 victory over Fulton.

It was the sixth win without a loss for the Comets who have one game to play and hold a one game lead over second place Bettendorf.

The Comets close out the season with St. Mary's of Clinton, Saturday.

Clark Griffith

Reported in Bad Condition

WASHINGTON (U)—Clark Griffith, 55-year-old president of the Washington Senators baseball club, is reported "very low" but trying to make a "ninth-inning rally" in his fight against a massive stomach hemorrhage.

Dr. George A. Resta, the team physician, described Griffith's ailment and said "the symptoms are bad." However, he added that he was encouraged by a rise in the baseball executive's blood pressure Sunday night.

Mrs. Griffith and other family members had gathered at Georgetown University Hospital after Resta described Griffith's chances of recovery as only "fair."

After a morning check with members of the family the club spokesman said Griffith had a "pretty fair night" but his condition showed no new change.

"He seems to be holding his own—no better and no worse," the club representative said.

Griffith, a onetime pitching great who helped organize the American League, had been given several blood transfusions since suffering the hemorrhage Saturday. He had entered the hospital Wednesday for treatment of neuritis, a nerve ailment.

Two Boys Trapped In Giant Laundry Machine Are Safe

CHICAGO (U)—Thirst and hunger were the only ill effects suffered by two 8-year-old boys trapped for 15 hours in the steel drum of an old laundry machine.

The boys, Robert Houk and James E. Hardcastle Jr., stopped at the display lot of a laundry equipment company Saturday afternoon on their way to a movie. With them was 8-year-old Billy Stephens.

Robert and James decided to investigate the interior of a big commercial laundry machine stored on the lot. They climbed inside. Billy playfully closed the door on the perforated drum.

The door would not open. Billy said nothing to anyone until early Sunday when he was pressed by the frantic parents of the missing boys.

He finally told police and firemen.

Rescuers found both boys calmly sleeping in the giant tub.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Mental distractions are responsible for many of our highway accidents. When behind the steering wheel, a motorist should give undivided attention to the task of driving. That quarrel with the wife or husband should be forgotten. Troubles at the office should be driven from the mind of a motorist while operating a vehicle.

The fraction of a second that it takes to get the mind off a personal problem and to face a sudden crisis on the highway may easily cost a life. Emergency decisions come up almost every day in the life of a motorist. A driver must ever be on the alert for the motorist who will suddenly cut in front of his vehicle while making a right turn from the second lane — for the

Southern California Crash Kills Seven Young Marines

SEVEN MARINES KILLED—Seven Marines were killed in this crash Sunday at Santa Ana, Calif., when their out of control auto collided head-on with an oil tank truck. The driver of the truck was not hurt but six of the Marines were killed outright. The other died shortly afterward at an emergency hospital. The Marines apparently were returning to their base at nearby Camp Pendleton when the accident occurred. (AP wirephoto)

SANTA ANA, Calif. (U)—A sedan, going downhill broadsided into an approaching oil tank truck-trailer Sunday killing seven young Marines in the car.

It was one of the worst highway disasters in southern California history. Wreckage and bodies were strewn along the highway. The windshield broke off the Marines' machine, sailed over the truck and shattered the windshield of another car, but its driver was unhurt. The truck's radiator was embedded inside the Marines' car.

The truck driver, Jack R. Hubbard, 32, was unhurt. He told highway patrolmen: "There was nothing I could do. They were skidding, then wham! They hit me. It sounded like thunder. Sparks went everywhere."

Patrolmen said it was a miracle the oil-laden truck did not explode. They said skid marks showed the oncoming car was five feet over the center line reeling sideways.

The 1st Division Marines, returning to Camp Pendleton from weekend liberty, included Cpl. James B. White, 19, son of Arion E. White, Herrin, Ill., and Pfc. James E. Harker, 20, son of Mrs. Thelma Bowen, Delphi, Ind.

Highway patrolmen said Macon was driving the car. Six Marines died instantly. Harker died shortly afterward in a hospital. The

Enlist Mule to Help Fight Big Coal Mine Fire

WALTONVILLE, Ill. (U)—Turning back the clock some 30 years, officials at Orient Mine No. 3 have brought in Pee Wee, a veteran pit mule, to help fight a two-week-old fire in the big coal mine.

All electric power underground has been cut off since the fire started at the mine owned by the Freeman Corp. of West Frankfort, Ill.

Pee Wee, pressed into service Saturday, is helping the handful of regular pit sloggers, working without gas masks to move material and supplies for state mine rescue crews advancing into the area in which the fire is confined.

Pee Wee is a lady mule and a lady in a coal mine is traditional omen of ill fortune.

But the men at Waltonville don't resent her presence.

"We should have had her here at the start," said one of the men. The 13-year-old mule was recruited from the little McCormick

State Jaycees Plan Events

HERRIN, Ill. (U)—Sites for a series of Jaycee-sponsored events throughout the state were announced by the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce at the close of a two-day state board meeting Sunday.

No dates have been set, but most of the events will be held during the spring months.

The events and their location: Miss Illinois contest — Wood River; junior golf — Rockford; junior baseball — East St. Louis; model airplane — Des Plaines; outstanding young farmer — Pekin; teen-age rodeo by DuPage County Jaycees — Naperville, and bowling — Belleville.

Adopted by the board was a key-stone of freedom program. A Jaycee spokesman said members, through a series of speaking engagements, "will alert the public of encroachment of government into business."

Heavy Political Thunder Rolls Over Farm Issue

GOP Chairman Hall Raps Stevenson and Harriman

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political storm over the farm issue has gathered intensity with a Republican blast at two possible Democratic presidential candidates and an official report of a further farm price drop. Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall Sunday accused Adlai E. Stevenson of bowing to pressure from Democratic leaders and doing a complete "flip-flop" in endorsing 90 per cent of parity farm price supports. And he said New York's Gov. Averell Harriman, in recommending the 90 per cent system, "has also advocated return to an unworkable program which piled up seven billion dollars worth of price-depressing farm surpluses in government warehouses."

Further Setback The report of a further setback in farm prices came from the Agriculture Department. It said prices declined between mid-September and mid-October under the influence of a record output of crops and livestock. The exact amount will be issued in a formal report Friday.

Farm prices already average 4 per cent below a year ago, the department said, while prices of nonfarm goods have climbed.

Neither Stevenson nor Harriman offered an immediate reply to Hall's statement. A Stevenson aide said that before Hall "starts interpreting Gov. Stevenson's position on agriculture, I would think he would try to explain Secretary (of Agriculture) Benson's."

Sliding Scale Benson heads the Eisenhower administration program aimed at trimming surplus production and supporting farm prices mainly through a sliding scale of federal price props. This took the place of a Democratic program of 90 per cent of parity payments. Parity is the price paid by law to be fair for farm products in relations to farmers' costs.

Hall said that as recently as Oct. 7 "Adlai Stevenson said the 90 per cent parity program was not the answer to the farm problem. Yet when the pressure from the Democratic National Committee and other party heads became too strong, he completely reversed himself."

"He told a Des Moines political meeting Friday that 90 per cent of parity is 'all the more necessary at the present time.'" His flip-flop has scrambled the egg-heads supporting him" for the 1956 nomination.

"Not Good Enough" In his Oct. 7 speech at Green Bay, Wis., Stevenson said he did not believe a high support program by itself, "good as it may have been in its day, good enough for now—the problem is to see that the farmer gets his proper share of the national income."

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee did say that as between supports and no supports "I am for high price supports." He also said "we must be prepared to experiment with new techniques" to insure farmers an adequate income.

Hall said "the real program" of Democratic campaigners next year "is likely to be the Brannan plan." That program by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan under the Truman administration was rejected by Congress. It proposed to let farm goods sell for free market prices with the government to pay the farmer the difference between these and "fair" levels.

Harriman, speaking Saturday to the same Midwest conference of Democratic leaders at Des Moines, Iowa, which Stevenson addressed, also recommended 90 per cent supports and other farm aids. He said the Republicans are treating the farmer "like some kind of economic delinquent."

In St. Paul, Minn., however, Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said he believes there is not a "ghost of a chance" that Congress will restore the fixed 90 per cent of parity system next year.

Ellender commented as his group began a nationwide tour to find out how the farmer's feel about the Eisenhower administration farm program.

Ike's Announcement Meanwhile, Hall and other GOP strategists today were said to have set tentatively the first week in February as the time they believe President Eisenhower will say whether he will run again.

The timetable reportedly was based on Eisenhower's health progress reports and on various political necessities, including an early February deadline for candidates in the Ohio presidential preference primary next year.

California's Gov. Goodwin Knight told radio-TV interviewers in New York Sunday night that Eisenhower, if he decides not to run himself, could name the Republican presidential nominee in 1956.

Ancient Bell Calls Students

LEBANON, Ill. (AP)—A large bell, cast in the Eighth Century which calls students to classes at McKendree College, is one of the oldest in the United States.

It hangs in the chapel tower at the Methodist school.

The bell, originally cast in Spain was recast in the 14th century. It is one of five listed as contenders for the title of oldest in an article in the October issue of Hobbies Magazine.

The bell was brought to Florida in the 1600s, then disappeared for a time but was found in a deserted mission in New Mexico. Traders brought it to St. Louis where it was sold and recast again.

In 1858, the bell was taken to the Illinois State Fair at Centralia where Dr. N. E. Cobleigh, president of McKendree at the time, saw and bought it for the school's new chapel. It has been used to call students to classes for 97 years.

The bell is 31½ inches in diameter, 25 inches high and has a yoke of 16 inches.

Although the $10,000 bill is the largest in U. S. circulation, there are $100,000 gold certificates used for business between the Federal Reserve System and the Treasury Department.

Stevenson Mends Political Fences

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson did a little political fence mending Sunday at his 70-acre farm.

He entertained Lake County Democratic precinct committeemen and others—about 200, in all. But the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee did not divulge his 1956 plans to his neighbors. He is expected to make the announcement next month.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, who was the nominee for vice president on the ticket headed by Stevenson, was an overnight guest at the farm.

Host Stevenson made no speech. He mingled with the visitors and showed them around his place.

About four out of five prescriptions were compounded in the drug store 15 years ago compared to about 1 in 10 today because of the increased use of miracle drugs, most of which are sold in the manufacturer's containers.
